

Hello All,

I have been actively involved in baseball since I was 6 years old (so, 34 years ago...gross). I matured through Arlington Little League and then select baseball with the Fort Worth Dragons and Dallas Mustangs. I also had the distinct opportunity to play HS baseball at Arlington Bowie alongside some of my best friends. That was until my junior year as I unfortunately tore my UCL in summer ball ahead of Fall prep. Needing no surgery but a long recovery time, my coach (Chris Culbertson) allowed me to be a student coach. I loved every single second of it.

I graduated early and decided to do a year of junior college while still healing and that allowed me to be a coach for Oakridge HS JV. It was weird to coach players my age but a lot of fun and great learning experience. I moved on to the University of Texas- I'm a 3rd generation Longhorn and had the distinct opportunity to "play" at UT for Augie Garrido (he let me wear a uniform for a season).

I started my relationship with CPYL when my son, Sawyer, started playing several years ago in Coach pitch. I fell in love with the league's mission and dedication to creating a very competitive recreational league with a focus on development and creating the love for the game. In our several years in the league, I've witnessed the virtues that CPYL holds dear only enhance. My interest in joining the board is to aid in the continuance in the evolution of the organization. I believe in what you're doing and how you're doing it so I'd love to be considered.

Thanks all!
